

DAY 49

- Correct the spelling mistake. Certain
Sertain animals use camouflage to protect themselves.
- Circle the correct spelling. preperation preparation
- Circle the incorrect spelling. medicine medisine
- Circle the word that does not have a ch (chop) sound.
searched moisture specially structure
- knead or need?
Do you know if I need a ticket to get in?
- A synonym for foolish is _____.
ridiculous false sensible
- Complete the simile. daisy or pear?
As fresh as a daisy.
- accept or except? I accept your invitation to the birthday party.
- Expand the contraction didn't. did not
- Which word comes second in alphabetical order?
accountant accomplice accompany
- Punctuate the sentence.
The zookeeper explained that many animals use camouflage.
- Are speech marks needed? Yes No
He told us how chameleons change colour.
- Add one or more apostrophes where necessary.
A chameleon's eyes pick up colour and signals are sent to the cells in its skin.
- How many nouns? 7
Many animals are camouflaged by the colours and patterns on their skin, scales, fur or feathers.
- Circle the pronoun and the noun it refers to.
Predators are camouflaged so they can creep up on prey.
- Circle the adverb. A praying mantis skilfully uses its ability to look like a stick.
- Circle the preposition.
Many animals emerge from the grasslands and attack their prey.
- Circle the adjectives.
The intense heat in the desert causes animals to search for cool shade.
- Circle the conjunction. Although a scarlet kingsnake is not poisonous, it's coloured like a poisonous coral snake for protection.
- Exclamation, question or statement? Statement
I think a chameleon's ability is amazing.

MY SCORE

DAY 50

- Circle the correct spelling. straight straigth
- Circle the correct spelling. experience experiance
- Circle the incorrect spelling. occurred ocured
- Write the letters that make the er sound.
labour armour humour
- Add the suffix able to change the verbs to nouns.
tolerate tolerable consider able
- An antonym for willing is _____.
helpful reluctant wishful
- Complete the simile.
tree or bell? As clear as a bell.
- passed or past?
John passed by the shop on his way to the pool.
- Expand the contraction should've. Should have
- Which word comes third in alphabetical order?
procession proceeding procedure
- Punctuate the sentence.
The cities of Beijing, China and New Delhi, India are two of the most polluted in the world.
- Are speech marks needed? Yes No
What effect has air pollution on people? asked the tourist.
- Add one or more apostrophes where necessary.
It can affect peoples health by causing breathing difficulties, sore eyes and sore throats.
- Circle the verb. The three main types of pollution are air, water and land.
- Circle the pronoun and the noun it refers to.
Tourists often need to use face masks but they remove the masks when the air is clear.
- Circle the prepositions.
The air pollution in the city was from factories and car exhausts.
- Circle the adverbs. The city's seriously polluted air floated menacingly for miles around.
- Circle the comparative adjective. Humans should exercise greater caution so that dangerous pollutants don't enter the atmosphere.
- Circle the conjunction. Unless this happens, the problems associated with pollution will increase.
- Question, command or statement? Statement
Waterways can become contaminated when waste is dumped or drained into them.

MY SCORE