

DAY 45

- Rearrange the letters to make a word that means attractive. utlbaifeu beautiful
- Circle the correct spelling. ertain certin
- Circle the incorrect spelling. skilful skilfull
- Write the letters that make the f sound.
ne ph ew hy ph en ph ysical
- Write the homophone for blew. blue
- A synonym for annoy is _____.
irritate attack friendly
- The plural of burglar is burglars
- accept or except? She ate everything on her plate except the peas.
- Expand the contraction could've. could have
- The underlined word comes first in alphabetical order. Yes No internal intermission intermediate
- Punctuate the sentence.
Do you like ham, grated cheese, pineapple, chopped onion and olives on your pizza?
- Are speech marks needed? Yes No
Ooh, yes please! I replied, licking my lips.
- Add one or more apostrophes where necessary. Our pizzas' bases weren't made from wholemeal flour.
- Circle the pronoun. The thought of having pizza for dinner makes me very happy.
- Circle the word that does not belong.
The pizza, which was cooking in the oven, was already ready to be eaten.
- Circle the preposition.
Sweetcorn was scattered around the pizza.
- Circle the proper noun.
On some Saturday nights, we order pizza from a local delivery service.
- Circle the adjectives.
Although home-delivered pizzas taste nice, homemade pizza tastes better.
- Circle the conjunction.
It is complicated to make home-made pizza unless you are a good cook with lots of experience.
- Command, question or statement? Command
Don't burn your tongue on the hot, melted pizza cheese.

MY SCORE

DAY 46

- Correct the spelling mistake. continent
The continint of Antarctica has no permanent residents.
- The underlined word is correct. Yes No double double
- Circle the incorrect spelling. actually actually
- Write the letters that make the er sound.
colour odour harbour
- Add the suffix ence to change the adjectives to nouns.
confidently ee obediently ee
- A synonym for dull is _____.
interesting boring daring
- The singular of species is species.
- Whose or Who's? Who's going to Antarctica with me?
- Write are not as a contraction. aren't
- Which word comes second in alphabetical order?
screached scratching scribble
- Punctuate the sentence. Is Antarctica surrounded by the Southern Ocean or the Indian Ocean?
- Are speech marks needed? Yes No
The scientist explained that Antarctica has about 100 research stations scattered across it.
- Add one or more apostrophes where necessary.
Antarctica is one of the world's most important research places as it's so untouched.
- How many nouns? 4
Different species of penguins breed in noisy colonies called 'rookeries'.
- Circle the pronoun and the noun it refers to.
Adult penguin pairs take turns to keep the eggs warm and feed the chicks after they have hatched.
- Circle the prepositions. The scientists walked off into their laboratories.
- The underlined words are adjectives. Yes No
Clothing includes very thick socks, some thermal underwear and a weatherproof jacket.
- Circle the superlative adjectives.
Antarctica is unique as it is the coldest, windiest and driest continent of all.
- Circle the conjunctions. The research team didn't know whether to continue or stay in their tents.
- Question, command or statement? Statement
More than 13 000 tourists visit Antarctica each year on commercial ships and private yachts.

MY SCORE